Town hires youth services coordinator

By Don Staruk

Selectmen Monday night approved the appointment of a full-time youth services coordinator and a part-time community health educator.

The two positions will work through the Department of Community Services.

Both positions are being funded by a $142,000 Department of Education health education and services grant garnered from the state tax on tobacco products. Two other half-time student assistance program coordinator/counselor positions, funded from the same grant, were posted by the School Committee last week.

William Fahey, 31, of Reading, will begin his position as youth services coordinator Jan. 17. He will evaluate and implement youth support services, serve as a liaison between the schools and community groups advocating for youth services and pro-

School Committee contemplates separate, multi-purpose AHS gym

By Neil Fater

The School Committee Tuesday night turned its attention to the gymnasium at Andover High School.

Jim Marsh, head of the School Building Committee, and architect David Soleau presented two options regarding renovations to the High School gymnasium, Option 1 and Option 1A. Option 1A would involve tearing down walls at Dunn Gymnasium.

"What we're really coming to you with tonight are the pluses and minuses of schemes" for the new gymnasium, said Mr. Soleau.

The School Committee approved revisions to existing courses and additions of new courses at AHS and the middle schools: See page 35.

The committee at least temporarily eliminated the first of these options and asked that the building committee look into the costs of creating a new, separate, yet contiguous multi-purpose facility.

Option 1, the option "put in the closet" by the committee, would have allowed for a lower estimated construction cost and a

The restoration of Elm Green will celebrate in "all who serve," said Richard Bowen, chairman of the town Patriotic Holiday Committee.

School Councils have begun their work

By Neil Fater

School Councils are in place and each individual council has begun its work to finalize a needs-assessment form and to create a School Improvement Plan for its school.

Currently, each council has either finished, or is in the final stages in the process of finishing, a needs assessment form that is to be sent out to each parent or guardian of a student at the school, according to Mark McQuillan, superintendent of schools. These forms are expected to be mailed out shortly after the holiday. The needs assessment forms essentially ask for comments on what is right and what needs improvement in various elements of the school or curriculum.

The councils will use these responses in creating School Improvement Plans, their most important task.

"They really need to see themselves as working for the betterment of the school, but also as working within the overall system," said Dr. McQuillan.

According to Tim Thomas, principal of Andover High School, the High School Council has broken up into groups to handle various elements within the needs assessment form, and will do the same to deal with its School Improvement Plan.

The Education Reform Act requires each council to address several aspects of its school's makeup in creating its School Improvement Plan.

"Each council will be doing things a little bit different, as you'd expect, since they're autonomous groups," said Dr. McQuillan.

The required areas of input for the School Improvement Plan include student-teacher ratios, ratios of students to support personnel and an assessment of the impact of class size on student performance. If it is deemed necessary, School Councils must then create a plan to bring class sizes down to a more acceptable level.

School Councils at each school will look at plans for enhancing parental involvement, teachers' professional development, and the school climate for tolerance. They will also address the area of extracurricular activities, review school safety and discipline, and look at ways to meet the diverse learning needs of students.

According to Dr. McQuillan, the bulk, if not all, of the School Councils' work would be the creation of these School Improvement Plans.

"That's what their assignment is this year, and I think that's their assignment long term," he said.

"They will have to turn in the plan some time in May," said Dr. McQuillan.

The School Committee has 30 days after a council hands in its School Improvement Plan to either pass the plan or send it back for revision. If the 30 days expires without the School Committee ruling on a plan, then the plan is automatically approved.

"The School Committee has a very rigid time schedule to approve these," said Dr. McQuillan.

The members of the councils for all Andover schools met at the High School earlier this month for a pizza dinner and discussion of the state-mandated role of each council.

Dr. McQuillan, Senator John O'Brien, D-Andover, and state Rep. Gary Coon, R-Andover, offered the greetings, and Nancy Peace gave an overview of the Education Reform Act, the act that mandated the creation of councils for each public school in Massachusetts.

Dr. Peace explained the implication of the law to the council members and, according to Dr. McQuillan, outlined both what the councils should address and "what they would be wise not to get into at this point."

Gail Zeman, the schools' business manager, and Richard Neal, assistant superintendent of schools, explained the budget cycle, the curriculum plan, and how both would relate to the work of each council.

Townsmen keeps a community calendar

The Andover Townsman keeps the Andover Community Calendar, a listing of major local events including fund-raisers, concerts, plays and more.

The purpose of the calendar is to avoid two major events occurring on the same day. Organizations that have planned an event should send notification to Perry Colmore, Andover Townsman, 33 Chestnut St., Andover 01810.

Notice to School Councils

Some of Andover's newly-formed School Councils have asked the Townsman to publish news of the councils when they meet.

The paper will publish three or four paragraphs per council, written by a council member when the group meets.

Please include a name and phone number, in case the paper has a question.

School Council gatherings are open meetings the public is welcome to attend. Watch the Townsman for news of when and where each council meets.

TOWNTALK

Organizers of the Feaster Five Road Race donated $23,500 in proceeds from the race to Lazarus House in Lawrence last Friday, Dec. 17. The presentation was made by officers of Marshalls, chief sponsor of the race, at the company's headquarters in Brickstone Square on York Street.

"That's a tremendous gift, particularly this year. I don't know how we would do it without them," said Bridget Shaheen, acting executive director of Lazarus House. "It's a gift for the people of the Merrimack Valley."

Part of the money will help open a new thrift store in a low-income section of Lawrence to replace one that burned down last week.

"It will also be used to help our families through the Christmas season," Ms. Shaheen said.

Bill Pennington, of Clark Road and co-director of the race, said the runners and more than 300 volunteers who worked on the race should be proud of their efforts.

"It really gives you a good feeling," Mr. Pennington said.

More than 5,000 runners signed up for the Feaster Five Road Race and 4,000 competed in the foot race through Andover streets in subfreezing temperatures Thanksgiving morning.

Amy Duarte is living in a Columbia, South Carolina apartment, doing well, getting ready for the holidays, and dreaming of a white Christmas.

But with temperatures in South Carolina still in the 60s, the chances of Amy seeing snow there Saturday are pretty slim. Still, the cards and letters she receives have helped her spirits as the 12-year-old prepares for a Christmas away from home.

Currently she is more than half way through the 100 days the doctors said she must spend in the area following her procedure to treat cancer. She will spend the holidays with her family in South Carolina.

Amy had a bone marrow transplant, with her sister, Tricia, as donor, at the Cancer Center for Treatment & Research on Oct. 27. Since the procedure, both Amy and Trish have been doing well.

"If something positive can be derived from this entire ordeal, it has to be the outpouring of love and support from our wonderful family, dear friends, neighbors, schools, churches, businesses, medical professionals and the Andover community at large," said the Duarte family in a letter. "It's been overwhelming!"

"A tremendous thank you goes out to each of you who in some way has helped Amy and our family weather this storm."

"We are not out of the woods yet, therefore we would ask that you continue to keep Amy and our family in your thoughts and prayers."

Santa visited the Townsmen this week to wish a Merry Christmas. Charles Daher of Commonwealth Motors sent him.

Amy's new address is: 2024 Pavilion Tower Circle, Columbia, South Carolina 29201 and she is a ring away at (803) 771-7715.

Your Dental HEALTH

by Richard D. Hopgood, D.M.D.

AT CROSS PURPOSES

It is normally the case that the arch of the lower jaw (mandible) is slightly smaller than the arch of the upper jaw. This sizing ensures that the jaws will close with the upper front teeth (incisors) outside the lower ones. As for the molars, the uppers normally close on the inner edges of the lowers. However, it may happen that a discrepancy causes some of the teeth of the lower jaw to close across the upper teeth. This is known as a "crossbite." It may be due to a lower jaw that is too long in relation to the upper jaw, or the lower jaw might not properly match the width of the upper jaw. If crossbite does not arise from a mismatch in jaw sizes, it may be due to primary upper front teeth that fail to fall out on schedule and permanent incisors having to erupt behind them.

Few of us are lucky enough to have been blessed with teeth that fit together perfectly. If your smile is less than what you'd like it to be, maybe we can help. We have many techniques available at our fingertips to straighten, brighten, whiten, and otherwise give you the smile you've always wanted. Come see what it means to experience gently, considerate dentistry from people who take the time to care, at 296 Lowell Street, Rt 133, with easy access off Rt 93. Hours: Mon & Thur 10-6; Tues & Fri 8-6 and by appointment (475-2431).

PS: An upper jaw that is narrower than a lower jaw may be an inherited condition or may be due to thumb-sucking or tongue-thrusting.

Looking at options for AHS new gymnasium

lower cost per square foot, would have had a minimal impact on physical education classes and sports use, and met the educational program specifications. State reimbursement at 60 percent had already been confirmed at an earlier conference.

However, a graduation ceremony could not be held in the gym created by Option 1 and there would not have been a 1/11th mile track. There also were no provisions for an elevated track and no opportunity for greater use of the facility by the community under this scheme.

Option 1 would have allowed for the gym floor space to expand from 16,000 square feet to 18,750 square feet, and the overall gym space to increase to 21,000 square feet.

Option 1A, still presently being considered and evaluated, expands the existing 16,000 square feet gymnasium to more than 27,000 square feet with an option to add an elevated 7,500-square-foot running track.

"We know the Option 1 specs have been approved by the state. We are hopeful we can sell to the state Option 1A," said Mr. Marsh.

He said that he believed the state would reimburse for the approximately 27,000 square feet of Option 1A but would not cover the elevated track. The elevated track is an option that may be voted on at April Town Meeting.

"The upper level is not a competitive track," said Mr. Marsh. "It's a community-use track."

The gym created by Option 1A would have a 1/11th mile track, would have the appropriate infrastructure to allow for the addition of an elevated track, would accommodate up to 3,000 people at graduation ceremonies or all-school assemblies, would allow for increased community use, and exceeded the educational program's specifications.

However, Option 1A is expected to cost more than Option 1 and gymnasium walls would have to be knocked down because of the expansion necessary to add the indoor track.

Mr. Soleau said he believed the school would lose use of the gym for up to nine months under Option 1A.

"I'd be very surprised if it could be done in nine months, in New England," said Jim Hurley, athletic director for the schools. "You can't minimize the effects and costs of taking that facility out for a year."

Additional busing to alternate sights, use of locker rooms, and the transporting of equipment would be among the costs presented by the closing of Dunn Gymnasium.

In part because of these reasons, Dick Muller, School Committee member, suggested that the possibility of erecting a separate, though adjacent, multi-purpose facility be considered. Under this option, labeled Option 1B, the current gym would receive only minor renovations, and a 27,000 square-foot building would be erected immediately beside it.

Mr. Marsh said he believed the $1.3 million approved by the state under Option 1 would be approved for use in any of the other options, with the town picking up the tab for the rest.

By the Jan. 4 meeting, the School Building Committee is expected to have more information on the costs of the various options, and what percentage the state would in fact be willing to reimburse. A survey on what ground surrounding the High School would be suitable for playing by Mark F. DeLorenzo, D.C.

Understanding Chiropractic

ELEMENTS OF SUPPORT

Because prevention plays a formidable role in chiropractic care, chiropractors are quick to urge those in heavy-lifting jobs to wear back supports. On the most fundamental level, these braces serve to remind workers that they are at risk for incurring back injuries. Back supports also act as postural devices that square the wearer's hips with his body, as well as achieve pelvic tilt to reduce the amount of pressure on the lower spine. By restricting movement, back supports remind wearers that bending at the waist is to be discouraged and proper lifting techniques are to be encouraged. Beyond that, back supports bolster the muscles of the abdominal area and lower back and work to reduce pressure on the spine.

If you would like to learn how to prevent injuries, improve your health and feel better, we hope you will try chiropractic. For more information, please call DELORENZO CHIROPRACTIC GROUP, 475-5042, for an appointment. We offer natural and safe care for the entire family and accept only those patients we sincerely feel we can help. Our office is located at 15 Central Street. Best wishes for the holidays!

P.S. Better-quality back supports are designed not to ride up the waist during wear.

Backstreet Restaurant may close

By Don Staruk

Backstreet Restaurant and Cactus Jack's Mexican restaurant, both at 19 Essex St., will likely close or change hands after Christmas.

The two restaurants, which are operated as a single business, are owned and operated by Alan and Lillian Shulman, of 8 Apache Ave., but the property is leased from Richard DeAngelis, of 105 Cross St. and his sister, Bernadette DeAngelis, of Saugus.

The Shulmans could not be reached for comment when this story was being written Wednesday morning, but an employee of the restaurant said this week that Mr. DeAngelis will be taking over the business. The restaurant was not accepting reservations for New Year's this week.

According to town treasurer's records, more than $29,600 in property taxes and water and sewer bills are overdue on the property. The bills date back as far as 1992 and an additional roughly $5,000 is owed in interest, according to the treasurer's office.

Food and liquor licenses have not been renewed and expire a week from tomorrow, on Dec. 31, according to town records. The liquor license application would have had to have been in by the end of November to be renewed for Jan. 1, but Town Clerk Randy Hanson said the Shulmans indicated they would not be renewing it.

Mr. DeAngelis said Wednesday morning that he did not want to comment on the situation with the restaurant because of legal issues. Attorneys for the two parties were involved in negotiations this week.

The Shulmans have leased the restaurant for five years. Before that the DeAngelis ran Backstreet Restaurant for nine years. The DeAngelises also own and operate Companions restaurant in Revere.

Mr. Shulman is a member of the town's Zoning Board of Appeals.

Park Street Pub to open Monday

By Don Staruk

The Park Street Pub, described by its owner as an "upscale sports bar," will open this Monday, Dec. 27, at 4 p.m. in the spot formerly occupied by the Andover Grill at 40 Park St.

The Grill was closed earlier this year after the property was sold at a foreclosure auction. Richard Pruneau, a former Andover resident, leased the space and totally renovated it, opening up the front windows, putting all new "light" wood inside and a new bar.

"It's totally different," Mr. Pruneau said Wednesday.

The pub has seating for 55 patrons, five television sets, including a big-screen TV, an open air kitchen, "like the Ninety Nine" restaurants, according to Mr. Pruneau, and a simple menu of appetizers, grilled steak tips, ribs, chicken "and big burgers."

"Simple, fun, inexpensive food," Mr. Pruneau said.

There are also dart boards, a pool table and a juke box.

The bar will offer draft beer, imported and domestic, frozen drinks as well as a full line of bottled beers, wine and liquor.

The bar will have a "soft opening" Monday with a limited menu of appetizers, and gradually expand the menu. The pub will have a New Year's Eve party, complete with free buffet and noise makers, and no entry fee.

FTP Software moves to Brickstone

Martin Spagat, president of Brickstone Properties, has announced that FTP Software, which develops and manufactures TCP/IP networking software, has leased 130,000 square feet of office space at Brickstone Square in Andover.

Steven Druth, marketing director for Brickstone Properties, represented the owner and John Cissel, vice president of Fraen Corp., real estate division, represented the tenant. Brickstone Square is a one-million square-foot renovated office complex.

FTP currently occupies 130,000 square feet of office space in Brickstone Properties' North Andover Mills and is expanding its corporate offices to Brickstone Square to accommodate rapid growth in its business.

"After moving to North Andover just last year, FTP wanted to continue their close working relationship with Brickstone Properties when they decided to expand," said Mr. Cissel. "The fact that FTP chose another Brickstone Properties' owned and managed building is a testament to our level of satisfaction and sense of comfort that we have with Brickstone."

FTP Software will join corporate offices of Marshalls, John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance and First Eastern Mortgage at the complex.

NEW RULES FOR DEDUCTING JOB-RELATED MOVES

Home buyers who have job-related moves in 1994 will find that the new tax law does not permit them to deduct as many moving expenses as before. Under the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1993's new guidelines, the distance from an employee's old residence to his or her new job location must be at least 50 miles greater than the old work place. (Prior to 1994, the minimum distance needed to qualify for a deduction was 35 miles). In addition, the new tax law reduces expenses that were previously deductible, such as travel, meals, and lodging on house-hunting trips; the cost of temporary lodging in the new work area; meal cost while moving; and closing costs on the sale of the old home and purchase of the new one. In conjunction with new restrictions on the deductibility of business entertainment expenses (from 80% down to 50%) these changes in the deductibility of job-related moves will be a difficult adjustment for some business people.

As tax laws change, let me help you by putting my financial expertise to work for you! Why not schedule an appointment so that we can work out a financial plan that is right for you. Call BAYSTATE FINANCIAL SERVICES at 475-9212. My office is located at 10 Essex Street, here in Andover. For your convenience I also have an office at 100 N. Washington Street in Boston (617/523-4500). I offer all the resources of a major metropolitan financial services brokerage on a local level. I am a Chartered Financial Consultant.

HINT: The new tax law allows home buyers in job-related moves (who qualify) to deduct moving expenses when calculating their adjusted gross income.

Selectmen's roundup

Board of Selectmen approves changes to Shawsheen Square

Shawsheen Square changes approved

Selectmen Monday night approved a plan to add a third northbound lane on North Main Street at Shawsheen Square, a dedicated left-hand turn, to improve the flow of traffic in the square.

The plan approved Monday night creates the third northbound lane adjacent to the existing traffic island, allowing for retention of cars waiting to turn left. The street will be widened approximately four feet into the parking area south of Haverhill Street and three feet on the northeast corner of the intersection adjacent to the car dealership.

A hook would be added to the left side of the parking lot exit onto Haverhill Street to discourage cars from turning left out of the lot into the square.

The timing of the lights will be for the northbound left turn to be allowed first, followed by the southbound left and through traffic, then through traffic in both directions.

Construction could be completed in the spring, according to John Kennedy, an engineer for Vanasse Hangen Brustlin Inc.

Unfortunately, the plan does not address the considerable backups that occur on Lowell Street leading into the square, and may even make those delays worse because of the added delay for the northbound left turn. The problem there is that one car waiting to turn north out of Lowell Street onto North Main Street blocks all other traffic trying to come out of Lowell Street. That is another problem that will have to be dealt with separately in the future.

The plan approved Monday was one of three proposed. The first called for removal of the traffic island on North Main Street. The third plan called for taking about 10 more feet of the parking area, landscaping and benches in front of the Balmoral soccer field.

Shawsheen area residents are happy with the plan selectmen approved, according to those who attended Monday night's meeting.

"Basically I think everybody likes plan two," said Jim Sellers, of 40 York St.

Capital Improvement approved

Selectmen unanimously approved Town Manager Buzz Stapczynski's revised Capital Improvement Program for fiscal 1995-1999, which calls for funding $19.6 million in capital projects next year and a total of $55.8 million in projects during the next five years.

The town manager will now turn his attention to compiling his recommended fiscal '95 budget for release Friday, Jan. 21. Mr. Stapczynski, who will present his budget to selectmen at the board's Jan. 24 meeting, said it will include as many of the projects outlined in the CIP as possible.

General Community Action Statement

Board members gave Mr. Stapczynski some direction for developing a community action statement to be used in applying for state grants, but left the specific wording up to the town manager. The statement, which is required by the state Executive Office of Communities and Development for towns that are applying for some state grants, is supposed to list the town's five priorities.

"It will let a bureaucrat in Boston understand what our needs are," Mr. Stapczynski said.

"A senior center would be right at the top as far as I'm concerned," Selectman Larry Larsen said.

Selectmen talked about specific needs, such as a new senior center, upgrading roads and sidewalks, school construction and purchasing open space, but decided broader, more general statements would be more appropriate so as not to be exclusive.

The board decided the five priorities Dr. Larsen suggested were closest to what board members were looking for and asked Mr. Stapczynski to work with those to come up with a draft for them to review at a future meeting. Dr. Larsen's five priorities were:

- Build neighborhood and community;
- Make the environment people oriented;
- Preserve history;
- Enhance of excellence in

HELPING YOUR CHILDREN BUY A HOME

Many of our younger buyers are taking up their parents' offer of help in buying their first house or condominium. Parents may provide loans or gifts for the down payment or offer to co-sign the mortgage. At the same time, the children try to involve the parents in the buying process, taking them to see the properties they are considering seriously and hoping for approval of their final decision.

Many of the parents who have owned their homes for years go into shock when they realize how much their children will have to pay for a small starter home, especially if they are looking in a large urban area. If you are helping children, try to remember how expensive your home and mortgage seemed years ago. Remember the buyers' remorse you felt then and the pride of ownership you feel now. Your children will soon grow into their mortgage, and compared to the rent they would be paying for a similar home, it will seem like the best investment they ever made and they will thank you a lot for helping them to make it possible.

When your Dad bought his first home in 1969, his mortgage rate was 8%.

Imagine his big surprise when you tell him your mortgage rate today is 6.66%*.

And your Dad was worried you would never be able to afford to buy your own home. That's because over the life of his mortgage, he saw interest rates soar and home prices escalate. He worried about how his children would ever be able to have what he had - the security of home ownership.

But times change. And this time they've changed for the better. Mortgage rates have not been lower since 1968. With home prices dropping, now is the best time in almost 25 years to invest in home ownership.

So give Community Savings Bank a call. Let us give you information about all our home mortgage rates. Then call your Dad with the good news. He'll be surprised. Then he'll be happy.

The 1990 graduate of Ballard High School in Louisville, Ky., is concentrating in economics.

A Colgate student must achieve a 3.30 or higher average while carrying a full course load to be eligible for the dean's award. Mr. Werner spent the spring semester in Colgate's study abroad program in Freiburg, Germany.

Sarah Witham of Andover has entered the first-year class at Wheaton College in Norton. She is the daughter of Tom and Sue Witham.

Berklee College of Music junior Ken Gable, son of C. Allen Gable of Andover, was the featured saxophonist in "Marios Toumbas Quintet," an ensemble performance of jazz music on Sept. 29 at the Berklee College of Music recital hall.

The Berklee instrumentalists presented music by Cole Porter and originals by fellow students. Mr. Gable "displayed a natural proficiency with his personal alto saxophone style," according to the school.

Mr. Gable is majoring in music production and engineering at Berklee, which provides preparation for a professional career as a performer and recording artist in contemporary music's rock, pop or jazz media.

James Pathiakakis of Andover, a cooperative-education student at Merrimack College, is spending his work semester at General Electric in Lynn. The sophomore is majoring in computer science.

Award lists/honor roll policy

The Townsmen enjoys publishing good academic and community news, such as honor rolls and award lists from Andover schools, public and private. Manuscripts should be legible, with students' names typed (first name, middle initial, last name), in upper- and lower-case letters. Schools should note that the newspaper no longer accepts these lists printed with a dot-matrix printer, or typed using all capital letters, or both.

The material should be dropped off or sent to Assistant Editor Jack Grady, Townsmen, 33 Chestnut St., Andover 01810.

490 AHS students attend Holly Ball

The annual Andover High Holly Ball, held Dec. 4, was the largest, most successful ever, according to organizers. A buffet Chinese dinner was served at the semi-formal affair in the AHS cafe. Dave Casanave, the DJ, kept most of the students dancing until the 11 p.m. closing with songs played at students' requests.

Award-winning children's book author, AHS '76 grad, is home for holidays

Laura Seeley, a native of Andover and 1976 graduate of Andover High School, has been awarded the 1992 prize for children's literature by the Georgia Council of Authors and Journalists Inc. for her latest book The Magical Moonballs. Her first book, The ABC Book of Shadowboxes, received the award in 1990.

Gov. Zell Miller of Georgia greeted the award-winners at a Dec. 15 ceremony at the statehouse in Atlanta. Others receiving awards were President Jimmy Carter and Betty Jean Craige, co-winners for non-fiction; Lynne Williams, for fiction; and Stephen Corey, for poetry.

Ms. Seeley, who now lives in Atlanta, will be home for the holidays and will autograph her books at the North Reading Star Market today, Thursday, Dec. 23, from 2 to 6 p.m.

Menus will be published in the next issue, Dec. 30, for the week of Jan. 3-7.

Design the logo for Andover's 350th

The Andover 350th Celebration Committee is sponsoring a contest for a logo design to be used during its year-long celebration, which will take place in 1996.

The theme is to be Andover, Home of "America," which refers to the song "America" ("My Country 'Tis of Thee"), written by Samuel F. Smith while a divinity student at Andover Theological Seminary and living in what today is known as "America House."

Designs will be judged on their content, without regard to the slickness of their presentation. The freehand design made with crayons will carry as much weight as that constructed with set type and drafting tools. An entry form, which contains the rules and must accompany every entry, will be available at many locations throughout Andover, including most banks, the Mail Room, the Townsmen offices, Old Town Hall and the Town Offices reception area.

All entries must be delivered or postmarked by Friday, Jan. 28, and delivered to Memorial Hall Library, attention Norma Gammon, 350th Committee.

An exhibit of all entries will be held in the spring.

The following rules will apply:

1. Emblem must pertain to the Town of Andover and the 350th theme. Entry must incorporate the slogan, Home of "America."

2. Design must be original.

3. Design should be suitable for reproduction in black and white or color.

4. Design must be submitted on 8- by 11-inch white art board.

5. The logo ultimately will be used and applied in many ways, including letterheads, signs, promotional products and perhaps on banners and flags.

6. The winning design(s) will become the exclusive property of the Andover 350th Celebration Committee.

7. Designer(s) of the selected logo will allow alteration of their design(s) as deemed necessary for final acceptance and ultimate use.

8. The entry form, containing the designer's identifying information, must be securely taped or glued to the back of the entry and will be considered his or her acceptance of the contest rules. No identification shall appear on the face side of the design. Any explanatory text may be securely attached to the back of the entry.

Winter walks can reveal previously hidden treasures

By Marta Hornidge

December walking along AVIS paths in the Goldsmith Woodlands is full of surprises. Without foliage to obscure views, many sights not visible during the growing season now can be noticed. Look up and find roughly constructed squirrel's and crows' nests, and perhaps you will be lucky enough to spot the nest of the hawk that regularly glides over Fosters Pond. In many places, covering the nearly frozen ground, princess pine spreads itself looking like miniature Christmas trees complete with a dull yellow candle spire on top.

At this writing, one thin layer of ice covers the pond, making a smooth, clear surface to reflect shoreline trees. Except for the fussing of a red squirrel, the woods and pond are totally quiet. Have the ducks and geese deserted the area for the season?

How about bundling up in the new AVIS sweatshirts and T-shirts? They bear the new AVIS logo designed by graphic artist Mary Lou Lowrie. Moor and Mountain, the camping store at Dundee Park, is handling the sale of these items and is donating the entire proceeds to AVIS in honor of the 100th year celebration of this land preservation organization.

Here is a perfect Christmas gift for your hiking friends. Visit Moor and Mountain and check out the long- and short-sleeved T-shirts, or sign up to reserve a warm sweatshirt.

What historical 'firsts' should be listed in Andover's 350th anniversary history book?

Who had Andover's first computer? Who had Andover's first telephone? Where was the first telephone? When did parking meters first line the main street? Who were the first girls at Phillips Academy? What other "firsts" should be part of the "time capsule" in Andover's 350th anniversary history book?

The history now in progress has been retitled by the Publications Committee of the Andover Historical Society. The new title, Andover: A Century of Change 1896-1996, reflects the dramatic changes in the town since the turn of the century. The project is sponsored by The Eagle Tribune and the Townsmen.

The pictorial history will contain 256 pages, including more than 200 photographs. Other chapter topics include notable residents, conservation and preservation, industry and mills, institutions and churches, ethnic cultures, the face of Main Street, schools and education, businesses, town government and recreation. Information and anecdotes on these topics is most welcome.

Author Eleanor Motley Richardson may be reached at 470-1006, or through the historical society at 475-2236.

Andover Choral Society to present 'An Afternoon with Mozart' at Christ Church

The Andover Choral Society will present "An Afternoon with Mozart" Sunday, Jan. 9, at 3 p.m. at Christ Church, 25 Central St.

The program will feature lesser-known choral works by the young Mozart, including two Mass settings, K. 65 and 259; the motet "Inter natos mulierum" K. 72; and the "Vesperae de Dominica" K. 321. Conductor Allen Combs will introduce each work with brief comments, which will help the audience appreciate these rarely performed masterpieces, composed while Mozart was employed by the Archbishop of Salzburg as a young adolescent.

The Andover Choral Society will be joined by a professional chamber orchestra and Boston-area soloists Anna Soranno, Lynn Edwards, Paul Kirby and Paul Guttry. Ruth Hedberg will be the organ soloist.

New members will be welcome after the concert. Although many chorus members are trained musicians, no audition is necessary. The Andover Choral Society, founded more than 65 years ago by J. Everett Collins, is based on open participation and a commitment to fine choral singing.

Tickets are available at Royal Jewellers on Main Street.

For more information on ticket sales or group membership, call Ralph Wadleigh at (617) 944-4591, or Glenn Rogers at 475-6082.

Carriage House Chorus spreads joy

Sales associates and staff at Century 21 Carriage House at 10 High St. have formed a singing group called the Carriage House Chorus. Regular rehearsals are held under the direction of Phil Porter, professional musician and realtor. Last week the Carriage House Chorus presented a holiday sing-along program to the residents of the Phillips Andover Nursing Home and Prescott Nursing Home in North Andover. Santa Claus (realtor Jordan Correia) accompanied the chorus and danced and sang with residents.

"Our objective was to spread some joy," said Pam Lebowitz, one of the owners of Century 21

Carriage House. "In the process, we met many lovely people and formed some new friendships. The Carriage House Chorus received much joy in return."

West Parish has two Christmas Eve services

West Parish Church will hold two candlelight services of worship on Christmas Eve. The Rev. Joseph La Du, pastor, will lead a service for families with young children at 7 p.m. The Christmas story will be told and carols will be sung. High school student Sarah Witman and college student Amy Witman, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Witman, will sing solos.

A half-hour prelude of carols for choir and instrumentalists will begin at 10:30 p.m. The choir carols are of Latin, German and English origin.

The traditional service of Christmas scriptures and carols sung by the congregation will begin at 11 p.m. The Rev. La Du's meditation is entitled "Out of Darkness - Light." The service will conclude with the lighting of candles and singing of "Silent Night."

Instrumentalists for the prelude and service are Phillips Academy student Maria Pulzetti, and Roland Vasquez, violinists; oboist Roxann Nickerson and flutist Freda Weinbrecht.

Joyce Painter Rice is organist and choir director. Seminarian Judy Gould will assist in leading the service.

B'nai B'rith shares for the holidays

The Peace Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women, a Merrimack Valley Jewish women's service organization, shared the giving spirit of Hanukkah by donating new children's winter clothes to Andover families. The sharing with others less fortunate called "Izedakah" - is part of the tradition of Hanukkah. The children of BBW members wrapped presents which were given to Sondra Finegold, a teacher at West Elementary School. Through the the school, the clothing will be distributed to local children.

Diana Finegold and Robin Karlunkel of West Elementary with some of the packages collected for others.

A REVIEW OF 1993

The year 1993 was full of discussion about crowded schools, elections and coming and going businesses in the downtown. In a three-part series, the Townsman staff reviews the news of 1993.

January

An Andover family of three was killed when the tour bus they were in crashed and burned near Cancun, Mexico. Sung J. Chen, 53, his wife, Yu-Ling Chen, 45, and their child, Ahn-Ahn, 6, a student at Sanborn School, all of 36 Algonquin Ave., were killed when the bus skidded off a road, slammed into a power pole and burst into flames 25 miles west of Cancun.

Officers Robert Cronin and patrolman David St. Jean and Officer Calvin Metcalf and Sgt. James Hashem helped save Mr. Gulla, who officials estimated was in the water 45 minutes before getting out.

Teachers and negotiators for the School Committee reached a tentative agreement in a two-year teachers' contract. Neither side would say exactly what the terms of the contract were. Teachers had been working without a contract since Aug. 31, 1992.

Chris Outwin, the only member of the School Committee up for re-election in the upcoming March town elections, decided not to run again.

Liz Walker, co-anchor of WBZ-TV's Eyewitness News, was the guest speaker at the Andover League of Women Voters' winter dinner.

proposals developed by commissions and working groups of the Supreme Judicial Court. Her primary assignment was to work with the justices to translate the vision of the future judicial system set forth in the 1992 report, Reinventing Justice 2022.

The clock and bell tower were re-installed at South Church on Central Street, part of a $1.4 million campaign at the church to save the steeple and refurbish the church building.

February

Andover, Billerica skate to deadlock

By Rick Harrison

There was enough drama, excitement and emotion packed into one 45-minute game to last an entire season.

The Andover High varsity hockey team quickly cleared any lingering doubts about its elite status, tying traditional Eastern Mass. Division 1 power Billerica 3-3 in the Merrimack Valley Conference opener for both.

The impressive deadlock followed a season-opening 5-0 whitewash of non-league foe Concord-Carlisle, and sent the Golden Warriors into a 10-day Christmas break with a 1-0-1 overall record.

Coach Bill Cullen's squad is idle until next Tuesday when it plays a third straight home game, hosting Haverhill at Merrimack College (4 p.m.).

A week from today Andover battles North Andover in a non-leaguer at MC's Volpe Complex (2:15 p.m.).

Andover 3
Billerica 3

The deadlock with Billerica, which has won 18 league titles and a pair of State (Division 2) championships during its storied ice history, was tinged with tragedy when AHS junior left wing Scott Munroe broke his left leg midway through the final period.

Munroe, who scored two goals to spark the offense against Concord-Carlisle three days earlier, was taken to Lawrence General Hospital after a lengthy delay while medical personnel worked to stabilize the leg.

Later the same night, after receiving the game puck from Coach Cullen, Munroe was whisked by ambulance to Children's Hospital in Boston for surgery.

Munroe was injured on a legal hit by a Billerica player, the neutral-zone check sending the Golden Warrior skater crashing to the ice in pain.

"The game was a complete emotional roller coaster that left us both pleased and sad," said Coach Cullen. "Pleased to play so well against an opponent of that caliber. We showed a lot of heart. The kids let it all hang out. It was a rock 'em, sock 'em performance from beginning to end. But obviously sad because we lost Scotty. I don't know how we're going to replace him."

The Munroe injury was one of several mini-dramas played out that evening.

Another was the decision to start junior Peter Afarian in net, after junior Jason Veilleux had won the No. 1 spot and blanked Concord-Carlisle in the opener.

"Last year Peter (who played very well) had a tough outing against Billerica," explained Coach Cullen. "He came to me a couple days before this game and said 'I want Billerica.' So I gave him Billerica. Jason and Peter are good friends and Jason understood."

Afarian responded with a brilliant 31-save effort, several stops of the spectacular variety, before Veilleux added three saves when inserted in a strategic last-minute move.

Billerica, which edged New Hampshire power Bishop Guertin 7-5 in its opener, grabbed a 1-0 lead 66 seconds after the opening faceoff when Doug LeBlanc scored.

Andover junior right wing Dana DiFiore countered at 7:16 on the power play, tying it with an assist to Captain Paul Allard after crisp set-up passing.

The Golden Warriors took momentum and a 2-1 lead into the locker room when senior center Bob Daley connected at 13:59, assists to Allard and senior left wing Sean Donohue.

It was a strong individual effort by Daley, who carried the puck down the slot and caught the inside of the farside corner with a quick shot past Indians' veteran netminder Chad D'Arrigo.

The locals clung to their slim lead until Billerica's Colby Weston tied it 2-2 with 30 seconds left in the middle period.

Derek Cappella, who figured in all three Indians' goals and had seven points (one goal, six assists) after two games, put his team back in front 11 seconds later.

The two scores 11 seconds apart in the final half-minute of the stanza swung 'Big Mo' back on the visitors' side.

Early in the third period Bob Daley had the potential tying goal wiped out by an offside call against Andover.

It was still 3-2 when Scott Munroe went down with the broken leg, and the delay was so long that both teams went to their respective locker rooms

Fuhr captures first place all-around at state gymnastic championships

Gretchen Fuhr, a fifth-grader at West Elementary School, captured first place all-around at the 1993 USA Gymnastics State Championships held at Algonquin Regional High School in Northboro.

She led all level six girls with a 35.45 total, enabling her club, Walker's Gymnastics and Dance in Lowell, to take first place in the team competition.

In the individual events Gretchen tied for first place on the balance beam with a 9.3, won sixth place in the vault competition with an 8.75 and received an 8.8 on the floor exercise and an 8.6 on the uneven parallel bars.

Teammates Kristina Angell of Tyngsborough and Kim Dulong of Billerica took second and third place, respectively, to complete the team sweep. One-half of a point separated the top six girls' scores.

Fifty girls representing more than 30 clubs from around the state competed in the level six division. Walker's Gymnastics teams, coached by Reg Walker and Eric Saunders, had a successful weekend as the level seven team won the first-place trophy and the level five team tied for first place. Overall, 144 girls from throughout the state competed in the day-long event. Girls must qualify at the sectional level to reach the state championship, which is sponsored by the Massachusetts chapter of the U. S. Gymnastics Federation.

Andover capitalized on a power-play opportunity early in the third with a goal from the point by Pete Zetlan on a setup by Marty Lastrina and Sean Corey.

Goalie John Hogan held Wakefield scoreless in the third period while Josh Hoerner scored with less than a minute to play to cap a come-from-behind 4-2 victory.

Boys basketball team drops non-league season opener

By Rick Harrison

In a game of spurts that wasn't decided until an 18-6 closing run by New Bedford over the final five minutes, the visiting Whalers hung on to defeat Andover 75-64 in a fast-paced non-league season opener between two of the state's top five Division 1 high school boys basketball teams.

Both teams, who split their first-ever home-and-home series last winter before Andover went on to finish 20-3 and New Bedford nailed down the state title, showed flashes of brilliance in a wild and wide-open battle at the Dunn Gym.

A loud, raucous opening-night crowd rattled the rafters, and one New Bedford fan became so involved he stepped on the court to question an official's call and was summarily escorted from the gym.

Coach Dave Fazio's club was tentative and jittery at the beginning, taking several minutes to get into the game as turnovers and three straight blocked shots gave New Bedford early 6-0 and 10-4 leads.

The Whalers were a half-step quicker and a shade more athletic, as their man-to-man half-court defense and full-court pressure gave Andover fits in the early going.

But the Golden Warriors were more disciplined and patient, shot better from the free throw line, and did a number on New Bedford off the boards with junior Matt Gibson (6'5"), junior Cris Brown (6'5") and junior Eric Danis (6'0") the leading glass-sweepers.

Andover also received quality minutes off the bench from seniors Frank Paone, J.J. McCormick and junior Steve Muench.

Stockwood sharp

All-Scholastic candidate Kirk Stockwood didn't disappoint as he finished with a team-high 19 points, including 9-of-10 at the free throw line.

The senior guard was limited to just three points in the second half, but contributed innumerable hustling defensive plays and setup passes to help keep it close.

New Bedford was led by Division 1 college prospect Marcus Wills with a game-high 21 points, while Jeff Clark added 19 and T.J. Goodine 16.

Andover, which fought an uphill battle all night, forged its first tie at 10-10 after Danis hit two free throws. Stockwood swished a pair of charities and junior guard Tom Tanin nailed a 10-foot jumper.

But the Whalers quickly escaped on a 9-0 run featuring four points by Clark and three foul shots from Wills.

The New Bedford advantage climbed as high as 13 points, 30-17, following a Wills' steal and uncontested layup. Andover chopped it back to six, 38-32, as Stockwood drained a three-pointer and Brown muscled inside for a bunny.

But JoJo Goodine countered with a buzzer-beating trey of his own just to make it 41-32 at the break.

The New Bedford lead swelled to 14 early in the second half and was sitting at a dozen, 55-43, before Andover caught fire and the Whalers lost their poise for the only time all night.

An electrifying 13-0 burst by the Golden Warriors, which included holding the defending state champs scoreless for 3:26, started innocently enough when Gibson notched a pair of free throws.

Danis, who had a monstrous second half after an invisible first 16 minutes, added a rebound bucket, a hoop off a steal and a free throw to make it 55-50.

Stockwood converted a pair of technicals after a New Bedford player protested a foul call too vehemently. Danis remained on a personal rampage with another inside maneuver, and two free throws by Brown gave the home team its first lead (56-55) with 6:37 to play.

Sean Rocha ended the Whalers' drought just in time with a 10-foot bank shot, but Gibson countered immediately with a rebound.

At this juncture New Bedford went on its final game-ending tear.

It opened with a traditional three-point play (bucket, free throw) by Wills, and ended with a one-man show by Clark who registered the last eight Whaler points on a steal, a twisting through-the-lane drive and four foul shots.

Four in doubles

Andover placed four players in double figures. -

Danis trailed Stockwood with 13 points, 11 in the second half, while lefthander Gibson and Tanin delivered 12 each.

Lefthander Brown netted four points, McCormick two and Muench two.

The Golden Warriors hit only 21-of-62 field goal attempts (33 percent), with many shots adjusted or hurried by the swift and aggressive Whalers.

AHS was also 20-of-28 at the free throw line.

Gibson ripped down 14 rebounds, Brown eight and Danis seven, while Stockwood had five steals and six assists.

New Bedford, the majority of whose shots and baskets came from inside including one jam by Wills, finished 28-of-55 from the floor (51 percent) and 17-of-28 from the stripe.

Jeff Clark had a near-perfect night with 5-of-5 from the floor and 8-of-9 at the line.

The Whalers hit 2-of-5 from three-point land and the Warriors 2-of-7.

The Andover JVs won the prelim,

52-46.

Christmas Tournament

Coach feels Lady Warriors will work through their inexperience

By Rick Harrison

Like a young child taking its first step, the Andover High girls varsity basketball team was a little wobbly in its season opener against host Lawrence High.

There was a predictable mixture of first-game good and bad in the 43-38 loss to the Lancers, with enough good to reinforce Coach George Sullivan's feeling the Lady Warriors will work through their inexperience (one senior) and form a cohesive, competitive unit.

Although both AHS and Lawrence are members of the Merrimack Valley Conference, this was classified as a non-leaguer.

The MVC campaign opened earlier this week against Lowell, and tonight marks the final pre-Christmas game at Chelmsford (7:30 p.m.).

"At times (against Lawrence) we looked like an all-senior team," said Coach Sullivan. "But we weren't consistent. They didn't beat us, we beat ourselves."

"We ran the offense and drove to the basket better than we've ever done. Our defense was tenacious and we showed some inside strength."

"But we have a problem getting the ball up the floor and into the hands of the people underneath," noted Coach Sullivan.

"Lawrence was pumped to play us. It was as if they were saying 'let's get Andover.' But I watched them play PMA (Methuen) the next night and they didn't have the same intensity."

Seesaw struggle

The Lady Warriors traded leads with the Lancers virtually the entire game, which was tied 21-21 at the half.

Andover fell behind by as many as seven points in the second half, but junior Amanda Verreault's all-around play sparked the locals back into a four-point lead.

"Lawrence was looking to bury us," said Coach Sullivan. "But our girls showed a lot of resilience."

AHS was dealt a severe blow when Captain Rachel Buonopane, the only senior on the squad, fouled out with about six minutes to play.

Three minutes later the Lancers moved back on top and were never headed again.

"When Rachel fouled out the team lost its leader," said Coach Sullivan. "We never fully recovered."

Andover finished with a 15-12 edge in field goals, but lost it at the free throw line where the Lancers held a 19-8 advantage.

"The foul line killed us," observed Coach Sullivan. "We didn't show much patience on defense, which resulted in many reaching-in and grabbing fouls. It was 'hack village.' But that's what happens with inexperienced teams."

Miss Buonopane paced the balanced AHS offense with 10 points, nine of which came in the first half.

Cleaning the glass

Junior forward Leah Mason contributed seven points and eight rebounds, while freshman center Susan Tully had seven points and 12 boards despite being in foul trouble most of the night.

"Both Leah and Susan played outstanding late-game defense and pulled down some key second-half rebounds," noted Coach Sullivan.

Sophomore guard Sue Cookson tossed in five points and was perpetual motion in the backcourt.

Amanda Verreault notched four points and ignited the second-half surge with her hustle.

Single baskets by junior forward Beth Cummins and sophomore guard Katie Jurdi completed the Lady Warriors' attack.

"We played everybody and found out we can't do that," admitted Sullivan. "The cream of the crop will see the most time. It's the only way to keep the continuity."

Diana Madruga and Jen Arraji were game-high scorers for Lawrence with 16 and 13 points respectively, combining for 15 of the winners' 19 free throws.

Next Monday night Andover faces North Andover (1-1) in the opening semifinal round of the Greater Lawrence Christmas Festival at Salem, N.H. High (6 p.m.).

ACBL Boys Senior Division action Free Christian, St. Robert's A and St. Robert's B come up winners

Ben Gibson's 12 points sparked Free Christian past tough-luck St. Augustine C, 27-24, while St. Robert's A and St. Robert's B continued undefeated, highlighting Andover Church Basketball League boys Senior Division play at the West Middle School gym.

Free Christian, 27-24

Three players did all the scoring for the winners, who led 7-2 after one quarter, trailed 12-11 at halftime and led 19-18 after three periods in this nip-and-tuck affair.

It was the second close loss for St. Augustine C, which has dropped its first two games by a total of five points.

Forward Ben Gibson was game-high for Free (1-1) with his 12, diminutive guard Matt Rouillard added 8 and John Beanland 7 points.

Jake Hall, Eric Larose, Dave Nichols and Will Olney were other Free standouts.

St. Robert's A, 35-12

SRA (2-0) had too much firepower for St. Augustine B, breaking open a tight (13-8) game with a 22-4 run in the second half.

Kevin Barry, Jeff Cutler and Ethan

Murphy spearheaded the winners' balanced offense with 6 points each, Mike Monteiro contributed 5, Pete Maguire bagged a pair of outside shots in the third quarter, Bob Rawlinson had 4 points, Dan Barch 2 and Jesse Gallagher 2.

Jeff Gaunt and Frank Fitzpatrick did all the damage for SAB with 8 and 4 points respectively.

Also playing well were Joe Dolan, Jesse Hamilton, Matt Kish and Chris Cordima.

St. Robert's B, 29-13

SRB (2-0) also turned a slim halftime lead (12-9) into a convincing victory over Ballardvale United with a 17-4 run during the third and fourth quarters.

Marc Rocca, a guard who scored four first-period hoops on strong drives, emerged as game-high marks man with 10 points for St. Robert's B.

J. Austin Stefani added 6 points, including four in the pivotal third quarter, while Steve Papadopoulos scored 4 points, Matt Schrader 3, Matt Brooks 2, Patrick Dennehy 2 and Andrew Ormsby 2.

Peter Hill countered with 7 in Ballardvale United's season opener.

Mike Kelley, Chris Lane and Will Reynolds pocketed 2 points each, while Tivler Keene and Jim Morgan also played well for a BU squad that had difficulty throughout the game penetrating SRB's aggressive man-to-man defense.

ACBL Girls Senior Division action St. Robert's A slams St. Robert's B; St. Augustine A registers win

Jenna Hartwell and Erin Croteau combined for nine points to lead early-season favorite St. Robert's A past St. Robert's B, 17-5, while St. Augustine A held off fast-finishing St. Augustine B, 17-15, in Andover Church Basketball League Girls' Senior Division play at Andover High.

Undefeated St. Robert's A moved into first place alone with a 2-0 record.

St. Robert's A, 17-5

The more experienced SRA crew led by seven points at the half and was never seriously challenged by intrachurch foe SRB.

Jenna Hartwell netted 5 points, Erin Croteau 4, and single baskets were notched by Katherine Blais, Jessica Puccia, Monica Turbett and Jackie White for the winners.

Nicole Shoemaker pocketed 4 points, including her team's lone field goal, and Kerry Ford contributed a free throw for St. Robert's B.

Also playing well were Michelle King, Allison MacRae, Jennifer Mann and Nicole Menschel.

St. Augustine A, 17-15

SAA (1-1) bolted to a commanding seven point halftime lead, but center Kelly Walsh led a late charge by St. Augustine B that fell just short.

Kristin Games scored all 6 of her points in the first half for St. Augustine A. Caroline Torrisi added 4 points, Jennifer Powers 3, Jessie Fontanella 2 and Kaitlin Dargan 2.

Kelly Walsh was game-high with 10 points for SAB, Michelle Langone pocketed 4, Tricia Griffin swished a free throw, and defensive standouts included Katelyn Nugent, Sarah O'Brien and Suzanne Zannoni.

while he was being doctored.

"As he was being taken off on the stretcher Scott said 'please win it' to me," said Coach Cullen. "We couldn't quite do it for him but we came close."

The Hollywood-type script continued in the final minute, after goaltender Afarian had been pulled for a sixth skater.

With only 43 seconds to play junior right wing Scott Sullivan forged the tie, assists to sophomore Chris Cullen and senior Marc Escott.

"We needed a left-handed shot to take the draw. Chris won the faceoff, Marc passed to Scott and he banged it home from about 10 feet," said Coach Cullen.

Sullivan did not play in the opener after suffering a hyper-extended elbow during a pre-season scrimmage against Newburyport.

"We didn't know he was available until just before the opening faceoff," noted Coach Cullen.

The tired Andover crew spent most of its energy working for the equalizer, but the Golden Warriors had also used their one timeout earlier in the period.

Coach Cullen bought his team precious extra breath-catching seconds by replacing Peter Afarian with Jason Veilleux.

Billerica controlled play after AHS tied it, forcing several faceoffs in the Warriors' zone and producing two scary goalmouth scrambles that elicited three clutch saves from Veilleux.

As the final horn sounded a Billerica player, Bill Ranucci, lay unconscious after hitting his head against the boards during the frantic final seconds.

He was revived, helped off the ice and taken to the hospital for treatment of an apparent concussion.

Billerica finished with a wide 37-18 edge in shots, including 17-7 in the second period. D'Arrigo made 15 saves, while Afarian had 31 and Veilleux three.

Andover 5 Concord-Carlisle 0

The Golden Warriors didn't break this one open until the final period, when four goals less than nine minutes apart afforded the long-awaited breathing room.

Andover outshot the Dual County League Patriots by a 48-10 margin, but the combination of C-C goalie Matt Lydon and a series of penalties kept it close for 32 minutes.

Jason Veilleux went the distance in net and registered the shutout with 10 saves.

"I was disappointed in the kind of penalties we were taking, like too many men on the ice," said Coach Cullen. "Mental mistakes that we must work to eliminate."

Scott Munroe finally broke the 0-0 tie with two minutes left in the second period, netting a power play goal with assists to Marc Escott and Dana DiFiore.

The same trio hooked up at 1:53 of the final period to open the floodgates.

Later insurance goals were added by junior right wing Todd Thistle (5:21), Chris Cullen (8:11) and sophomore defenseman Jeff Hesenius (10:22).

Hesenius, whose unassisted goal was his first in a varsity uniform, also passed out two assists while sophomore center Ed Seero and senior left wing Craig Edwards added one each.

Young gymnasts win medals

Kerri Krivelow, 12, of Andover won the gold medal on floor exercise with a score of 9.1 at the USA Gymnastics Level 6 State Championships held Dec. 12 in Northboro. She also won the silver medal in the all around in the junior age group with a 34.2.

Coach Lauren Miller says, "Kerri has been a consistent performer on floor all season. The routine performed at the state meet had powerful tumbling and beautiful form and she really deserved the gold medal."

Teammate Kristin Kearins, 11, also of Andover, took the fifth-place medal on uneven bars with an 8.8, the sixth-place medal on floor exercise with an 8.9, and seventh place in the all around in the children's age group with the score of 34.9.

Brianne Camilleri, 10, who attends the St. Augustine School, won the fifth-place medal on balance beam with a 9.0.

All three girls contributed to the third-place team trophy won by Miller's Gymnastics Training Center of Tewksbury.

YMCA swim team posts loss

The Andover/North Andover YMCA swim team had its first loss this season to the Haverhill YMCA swim team.

Ryan Piazza

Ryan Piazza named to club for frequent racers

Ryan Piazza, 10, of Andover has been named to NASTAR's Coca-Cola Club for frequent racers. Ryan raced 11 times during the 1992-'93 season. The club honors young skiers who participate in the Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR program more than 10 times in a given season.

"The Coca-Cola Club is designed to encourage and reward youngsters who pursue ski racing," says NASTAR Commissioner Bob Beattie. "Too often kids are intimidated by racing or think they aren't good enough, but that's just not the case."

Mr. Beattie, a former U.S. Olympic ski team coach, is a strong advocate of ski racing as a way to improve a skier's overall ability.

Ryan attends St. Augustine School. He skis at Okemo Mountain in Ludlow, Vt.,

where his family owns a vacation home. Last year, he won nine gold medals and two silver medals. He recently has accepted into Okemo Mountain's developmental Racing Program which consists of two days of racing instruction per week. Ryan will compete with his team throughout the 1993-'94 ski season.

Ryan's 8-year-old sister, Michele, and 7-year-old brother, Christopher, have raced in NASTAR and are enrolled in Okemo's "Hopefuls" program, a non-competitive program designed to reinforce and strengthen current racing skills.

Ryan's sports interests are not all winter-related. Fall and spring are devoted to team soccer and basketball and summer is family sailing and golf.

Mass. Special Olympics will take unwanted cars

Massachusetts Special Olympics recently unveiled its new "Recycle For Gold" fundraising program. Under this program, Bay State residents can donate their unwanted cars and trucks to Special Olympics, who will have the vehicle removed free of charge.

The autos are then towed to an automobile recovery center in Millis where they are crushed and recycled right down to the anti-freeze and gas. This results in cash for Massachusetts Special Olympics.

• Former junk car owners not only benefit from having their heap removed, but also may deduct the car's fair market value on their income tax form.

• The environment benefits by being spared harm from the improper disposal of vehicles.

To get your unwanted vehicle off your hands, call 1-800-590-1600.

DOWN THE YEARS

100 Years Ago

Dec. 22, 1893

The new Republican Town Committee for 1894 met Wednesday evening, and organized with the choice of William Odlin as chairman, and O.P. Chase as secretary and treasurer.

The ice storm of Saturday night was the cause of considerable damage to trees in town and to telephone and telegraph wires. The scene Sunday morning was a handsome one, but when the sun began to melt the ice the traveling for pedestrians became quite disagreeable.

The Andover Press is quite busy now with several orders for calendars: 10,000 copies of the small calendars for the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Company have just been completed, and the order for the large business size is well under way.

The debating club of the South Church met at the vestry Tuesday evening discussing the causes of the Civil War.

Rev. J.J. Ryan of St. Augustine's Church received a warm welcome on his return home from Europe. He arrived Tuesday, and Wednesday night a large number of his parishioners gathered in the church vestry to meet him and show their regard for him.

50 Years Ago

Dec. 23, 1943

Sweeping changes in the Andover Fire Department in 1944, including the service of an ex-chairman of the board of selectman as a call fireman, were announced Tuesday by Fire Chief C. Edward Buchan.

Traditional Christmas morning services, in war as in peace, will herald the holy season Saturday morning. On Christmas Eve at 11:15 there will be a carol program and Holy Communion at Christ church, and St. Augustine's mid-night mass, not held for the past two years because of war conditions, will begin at 12:01. South church will have a dawn service at 7:00, and several of the other churches are planning services and special music.

A solution of the salary increase problem for all town employees will be sought next Tuesday evening, when the Board of Public Works, the selectmen, school committee and finance committee will hold a joint session in the town house.

The idea of an Andover Forum, or community discussion on matters of current public interest, has seemingly found wide acceptance among the leaders of the town. The forum was proposed by the editors of the Townsman in these columns early this month, and comments on the idea came from so many and such varied sources that the Townsman decided to lend its offices to getting a Forum underway.

Andover people are invited to send a really useful Christmas present to the boys in battle by the local Red Cross chapter, currently seeking 1,250 donors to give a pint of their blood between Jan. 4 and 8.

25 Years Ago

Dec. 24, 1968

The Andover post office was doing its best to get the record holiday mail delivered by today, but were suffering from the handicap which has hit industry hard - the flu. Postmaster Frank J. Mooney said the local clerks and carriers had been handling the volume very well up until Monday, when the local facility was hit hard by the flu putting several men out sick.

Tentative agreement on teacher contracts raised holiday spirits among the negotiators Thursday night and raised most teachers' salaries by $500.

A number of Andover men have an important part in the success of the Apollo 8 lunar spacecraft now on its way on a trip around the moon. They are all employed by Avco in Lowell which made the protective heat shield for the spacecraft. The shield, already tested in prior space flights, protects the astronauts against heat of re-entry into the earth's atmosphere at which temperatures reached 5,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

10 Years Ago

Dec. 22, 1983

Andover is scheduled to sign up for a pilot health benefit program with Blue Cross and Blue Shield starting Jan. 1 - a program the town manager says will save Andover $200,000 next year - but this week, four union representatives said town employees still have doubts about the new plan.

The School Committee this week got their first look at how elementary students are doing in their new mathematics program after one marking period - and decided they were "not particularly happy" with what they saw.

William Fahey hired as youth services coordinator grams, establish a mediation program for youth and parents and administer compliance with the health education grant.

Mr. Fahey is a graduate of Merrimack College with a bachelor's degree in sociology. He has experience working with young adults as an administrator of a variety of programs including alternative sentencing, in-school programs and youth boxing. He was recently employed by North Andover as assistant director of youth services, and he also volunteers for Haverhill, in youth services programs.

Rick Gorman, youth services coordinator in North Andover, said Mr. Fahey worked with him for three years - a year and a half as a college intern and a year and a half as a paid employee - until he was laid off due to budget cuts.

"He's basically a pretty energetic individual," Mr. Gorman said.

Mr. Fahey had a good rapport with the kids and works well with all types of kids, high-honors popular kids and kids with problems making friends and such, according to Mr. Gorman. He can advocate for kids and work with them, but can also set limits with them as far as what is realistic.

"He's pretty innovative. He's got some ideas," Mr. Gorman said. "He's a good guy who is in touch with the kids. He knows what the kids want and what the kids need. I think he'll do well over there."

Mr. Gorman said he hopes the two towns can eventually work together to set up some joint programs, both social events and team-building programs, between the two towns.

Mr. Fahey was one of 33 applicants, five of whom were interviewed. His annual salary will be $30,955.

Although the appointment is for only one year, Selectman Gerald Silverman said it looks like three years of funding is available.

"The likelihood is good that it will be re-funded, but we don't know," said Buzz Stapczynski, town manager.

Selectman William Downs questioned whether the town had other options on how the grant money could be used.

"The grant was very specific in using it linking up with youth and youth-related programs," Mr. Stapczynski said.

The idea was to use the money to organize programs to get kids to stop smoking, Mr. Stapczynski said.

Health educator

Betsy Holden, of Shrewsbury, began her part-time job Monday as community health coordinator. She will develop and implement a variety of health and wellness programs for adults, both town and school employees and community members.

She will work with other groups to identify health issues and concerns, develop responsive programming, and serve as liaison between the schools' health program and the town's public health department and Board of Health.

Ms. Holden has been a six-tenths time health education teacher at Andover High School for two years. She is currently teaching ninth grade and is a sophomore class adviser.

"She's an outstanding health educator," said Brenda O'Brien, health education coordinator for the schools and author of the grant proposal.

Ms. Holden is a graduate of the University of Nevada with a bachelor's degree in health education. She did her student teaching at East Longmeadow High School. She was one of six applicants interviewed for the job. She will work about 12 to 15 hours a week on the new position for an annual salary of $13,002.

Neither Mr. Fahey nor Ms. Holden were available for comment this week.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

Educational Advocate Program of Ed. Dept. seeks volunteers

The Educational Advocate Program, a program of the Department of Education, needs volunteers for students in Essex County communities. It takes perhaps 20 hours in a year to help a student and training and support is provided.

Volunteer Educational Advocates stand in for parents to support students between the ages of 3 and 22 with special educational needs. The students are in the custody of a state agency or their parents are unknown or unavailable to make decisions about school programs.

A training for volunteers will be held Wednesday, Jan. 26, from 9 a.m. to noon at the Greater Lawrence Educational Collaborative in Lawrence.

For more information or to register, call (617) 727-4533.

Assoc. for Blind seeks volunteers, too

The Lowell Association for the Blind Inc. at 174 Central St., Lowell, needs volunteers as drivers, readers, friendly visitors, shopping and youth program assistants.

Programs offered for blind and visually impaired include monthly ACME Club luncheons and crafts class, weekly Braille classes and practices of beep baseball. A drop-in center is open and the use of adaptive equipment is available in the office.

For more information, call 454-5704.

Cancer Society asks for volunteers, too

The American Cancer Society needs volunteers to help coordinate projects, provide administrative support, conduct public education programs and organize fund-raising events.

The society is also recruiting new members for its Road to Recovery Program. Road to Recovery volunteers drive cancer patients to and from life-saving treatments.

For more information or to volunteer, call 851-4870.

Hospice trains volunteers

Merrimack Valley Hospice of 1 Union St. runs free volunteer fall training programs from time to time.

"Our Hospice team believes in affirming life and we strive to help patients and families live each day as comfortably and fully as possible," said Susan Coburn, director of volunteers.

Elm Green

"That suggests someone is dead. Rather than a focus so narrow, it is something other than a memorial or monument."

"The Restoration of Elm Green will be dedicated to all those who serve our nation and our town. It includes all who have served, are serving now and will serve in the generations to come. We want to keep it in the present," said Mr. Bowen.

The model of the planned restoration was shown to the Board of Selectmen, School Committee and Finance Committee at a recent joint meeting. The model was constructed by Dennis Ingram of Facility Design and Management of North Andover. Mr. Ingram also drew up the architectural plans.

"We were unanimously in favor of the article at Town Meeting last year to take the money out of the Postwar Restoration Fund and use it for this project," said William T. Downs, chairman of the Board of Selectmen.

"I am glad to hear that it is not a veterans' memorial," he said. "It commemorates members of town boards and all who have volunteered to help Andover in unofficial ways in addition to those who have fought in wars."

Members of the Patriotic Holiday Committee viewed the model at their recent regular meeting with much enthusiasm, said John Lewis, Andover veterans agent. Committee members are John Lewis; Ed Morrissey, retired postmaster; Ted Cole, retired engineer; Harold Hayes, fire chief; John Milne, police officer; James Deyermund, state trooper; John Doherty, attorney; and Richard Bowen, chairman, an attorney. In addition, James Bamford, supervisor of parks and grounds, has been greatly involved, said Mr. Bowen.

Lt. Armand Guilmette, treasurer of the Andover Fire Department Relief Association, hands a check to Ed Morrissey of the Patriotic Holiday Committee. The money goes toward the Elm Green project. It was the first donation to the project.

It is fitting to reconstruct the green because there has been a commemorative site there for seven decades. Using no town money, AVIS, Andover Village Improvement Society, built the present brick wall to remember Andover veterans. It was commonly called Elm Green because to the north, where the parking lot is now, was a grove of magnificent elm trees.

The Restoration of Elm Green is simple and elegant in design. The High Street wall will be rebuilt and a wall to the north will be constructed to partially screen the parking lot. There will be handicap-accessible ramps from both High Street and Main Street. A semi-circular return to the wall and granite benches will welcome people to gather.

"The centerpiece of the site will be a 40-foot flagpole with a slightly oversized flag. It will be located on the site that corresponds to the center of Main Street. On a clear day you can see the flagpole from far south on Main Street," said Mr. Bowen.

Its base will have a granite slab for sitting. Six to 10 Austrian black pines will be planted on the quarter of an acre site, surrounded by grass and rhododendron.

The billboard will be moved, possibly to the fire station area.

Mr. Bowen anticipates the project will be completed by Veterans Day 1994 or Memorial Day 1995. The committee already has on hand $28,000 appropriated by the 1992 Town Meeting, funds that have been in town coffers for years as the Postwar Rehabilitation Fund.

He said the time line depends on the ability to raise the remaining $32,000 to $34,000. The committee will soon send letters to civic groups, industries and foundations to raise the remaining funds.

The first donation was presented last week by Lt. Armand Guilmette, treasurer of Andover Fire Department Relief Association.

Private citizens wishing to make donations should send checks to The Elm Green Fund, c/o Andover town treasurer, Post Office Box 130, Andover, Mass. 01810.

Mr. Bowen said the contract agreements will be ready to go out to bid in the early spring.

It is significant that the green will have no names and/or inscriptions from those individuals and groups that have donated money, said Mr. Bowen. Instead, a list of contributors will be kept at Memorial Hall Library, town offices, or Andover Historical Society.

A general store for backyard birdwatchers

If you enjoy watching birds in your backyard, as so many people do, then Wild Birds Unlimited is the store for you.

Now open in Great Elm Plaza on Route 125 in Plaistow, N.H., Wild Birds Unlimited caters to backyard bird-watchers. Owners Michael and Patty McDermott offer the largest selection of bird feeders, bird houses and high quality "no waste" seed available so they can satisfy the needs of everyone interested in bringing wildlife to their back yards.

Wild Birds Unlimited offers a dozen different types of birdseed, so you can attract a wide variety of wild birds.

How do you know which is the best for your feeders? Michael McDermott, owner, said it's best to have a few varieties in your feeders.

"That way you can be assured of the largest variety of birds on a consistent basis. Birds are creatures of habit; when they find a great food source, they'll keep coming back."

Wild Birds Unlimited offers custom "no waste" birdseed mixes - "no waste" because the mixes are cleaned of stems and twigs and filler seeds that are often found in inferior mixes.

This waste just adds weight to your mix, but is pushed aside by the birds, so you'll find yourself refilling the feeder more often with inferior supermarket mixes. It's best to buy quality seed it's better for the birds and less labor intensive for you.

Wild Birds Unlimited offers sunflower seeds, (oil and striped), thistle, sunflower chips, cracked corn, peanuts, safflower (the birds will eat, but squirrels won't) and red and white millet.

Next time, we'll talk about the special "winter" needs of birds - suet and fresh water.

Wild Birds Unlimited offers a variety of other related items - wrought-iron hanging hardware, bird baths and bird-bath heaters to provide water all winter long, all manner of hummingbird feeders, bat houses, window feeders to bring the birds right up close, as well as nature gifts, wind chimes, books, music and videos.

"Our business is to help people appreciate the wildlife in their backyards. At Wild Birds Unlimited, we bring people and nature together," said Mr. McDermott.

A search for a picture finds family and more

By Brad Pearson

It's an axiom worth remembering during this season; an inescapable lesson learned by the fortunate as a natural part of childhood — one doesn't always get what one wants.

During the past few years, throughout a frustrating search for even one photograph of Eliza (Messer) Pearson, the mother my beloved grandfather adored, that lesson has echoed like a refrain. It has been a constant companion while spending countless hours searching through old family negatives, Andover Historical Society files, Ballardvale church records, microfilmed Townsmen editions and local library resources. One doesn't always get what one wants.

The research did reveal that Eliza's widowed mother, Jane (Ritchie) Messer, brought her four young children here from Scotland in 1857. Here they stayed.

Jane, who never remarried, worked in the thriving mills and became a dress-maker. Eliza also worked in the mills before marrying Charles Pearson in 1881. Her sister, Alexandrina, became a "servant girl" and later married William Burt here in 1878.

Their brothers were less fortunate.

Alexander, then age 7, died in 1861 and James, who became a printer, died unmarried in 1882. Jane and her children are all buried in Andover cemeteries.

But no photograph of Eliza was found. So earlier this year, hope fading, I looked for and found two descendants of Alexandrina (Messer) Burt: a grandson, in Dryden, Maine, and a granddaughter in Bellingham, Wash. Could one of them have a family photograph showing, if only in the background, Eliza's image?

Letters were written and the responses es soon arrived. Alexandrina's grandson, George Burt, sent a Messer genealogy containing numerous family anecdotes and the Messers' Scottish history.

Alexandrina's granddaughter, Ena (Burt) Stiff mailed astounding original photographs of Jane (Ritchie) Messer and Alexandrina (Messer) Burt. (My wife occasionally reminds me of the unintentionally stern cast of my face and she immediately noticed a strong family resemblance in Jane's expression.)

Ena also forwarded Alexandrina's 117-year-old autograph book, a volume in which Jane, my great-great grandmother, had written the following counsel to her daughter: "Act well thy part, there all the honor lies."

A few months ago, Ena and her husband visited Andover. My wife and I spent an enjoyable afternoon with them visiting Messer family sites and shrines.

Ena's gentleness on that occasion and her previous generosity suggested qualities my grandfather probably cherished in his mother. Could Eliza's character, the most important part of any person, have outlived her photographs? Were we seeing, in Ena, a clearer image of Eliza than any picture could possibly show?

Vastly more important than artifacts was the discovery of previously unknown relatives in whom Eliza's character still lives.

Brad Pearson

My wife occasionally reminds me of the unintentionally stern cast of my face and she immediately noticed a strong family resemblance in Jane's expression.

Brad Pearson

One doesn't always get what one wants. I never found a photograph of Eliza. But, because of that yearning, anecdotes were obtained that added texture to the sterile statistics of Eliza's life.

Photographs of Eliza's mother and sister were found along with a loving inscription her mother had written. Vastly more important than artifacts was the discovery of previously unknown relatives in whom Eliza's character still lives.

One doesn't always get what one wants.

Many children will learn this seemingly hard lesson during the secular part of Christmas. Hopefully, that lesson will always contain a very consequential corollary:

With faith and fortitude, life often provides - if not what we want - something different, more and infinitely better.

Brad Pearson lives at 2 Temple Place.

Ballet at Firehouse in Newburyport

Ballet New England will perform new works and repertory ballets in Newburyport in January.

The spotlight is on choreographer Mihailo Djuric's original works, including his new "Four Romances," portraying four aspects of relationships.

Other ballets include a representative mix of Djuric's choreography which blends classical ballet with modern influences.

The performance is Friday, Jan. 7, in the Arakelian Theater of The Firehouse Center for the Performing and Visual Arts, 8 p.m. Tickets: $17. Tickets may be purchased at the Firehouse Box Office or call 462-7336 for booking by Mastercard and VISA. For more information, call Ballet New England at (603) 433-6678. The Firehouse is wheelchair accessible.

Getting there is easier

Motorists this Christmas holiday should pay the lowest average gasoline price in seven years, the American Automobile Association reports.

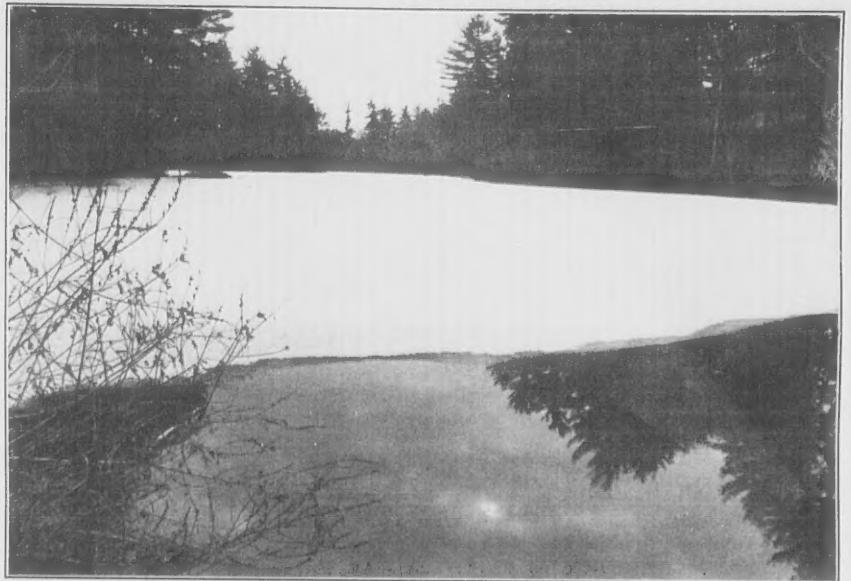

AAA's monthly Fuel Gauge Report shows the nationwide average price of self-serve regular unleaded gasoline is $1.091 per gallon. The average price the week before Christmas hasn't been this low since regular unleaded averaged 90.4 cents per gallon in 1986.

Gasoline prices are down in all regions of the country this month except the Southwest where the average price was up .6 cents per gallon to $1.10.

The biggest price drop was recorded in the Great Lakes, down 8 cents to 99.5 cents per gallon, followed by the Midwest, down 6.5 cents to $1.045. Other decreases were: Southeast, down 3.5 cents to $1.018; West, down 2.9 cents to $1.205; New England down 2.2 cents to $1.11; and Mid-Atlantic, down 2.1 cents to $1.091.

During the Christmas weekend, 42 percent of stations will be open and 31 percent will be open 24 hours.

Photography exhibit focuses on nature

Photographer James Freed of Hudson, N.H., will display his works in an exhibit "Nature's Overlooked Beauty" throughout the month of January in the Shapiro Gallery at New Hampshire College.

Mr. Freed is a member of the Manchester Camera Club and a member and past president of the Photographer's Forum of Nashua. He is an accomplished photographer and displays his works regularly in the region.

He received first place, third place and honorable mention in the 1992 Manchester Union Leader KINSA competition.

The Shapiro Gallery is located in the H.A.B. and Gertrude C. Shapiro Library at New Hampshire College in Manchester and is open to the public during normal library hours.

Admission is free. For further information, call Cathy Sullivan at 668-2211 ext. 2165.
